

Donate a Calf

Support Rural Mental Health

Rural Alive & Well (RAW), in partnership with Elders, is inviting local farmers to donate one calf to be grown out and sold at a charity auction — with 100% of proceeds supporting rural mental health services in Tasmania.

Why Get Involved?

This is a practical way to give back. With minimal effort and real impact you can support people in your own community.

How it Works

- Donate one dairy cross or beef calf
- Grow the calf out as part of your normal operations
- The calf sold through charity auction
- All proceeds go directly to RAW
- No costs to farmers

What's Covered

- ✓ Ear tags donated
- ✓ Transport & auction costs covered
- ✓ Auction fees waived
- ✓ RAW administration covered

Every dollar raised goes to supporting farmers and rural families.

What it Could Raise

- Funds raised at auction will be at a value determined by current market prices

Interested?

Sale timing will be aligned to market conditions. If you're interested in participating get in touch with Elders Tasmania or contact RAW to register your interest.
